Alma Mater

*Now here's to good old Hatboro High School;
Our praise of her will never lack.
To her we pledge our best endeavors
And rally 'round the Red and Black.
With loyal hearts and firm convictions
We'll cheer for her with might and main.
Now here's to good old Hatboro High School,
Come, let us echo the glad refrain.*

Foreword

Moments to Remember — moments which add up to six years of our lives, moments composed of education, of friendships, of athletics, of fun.

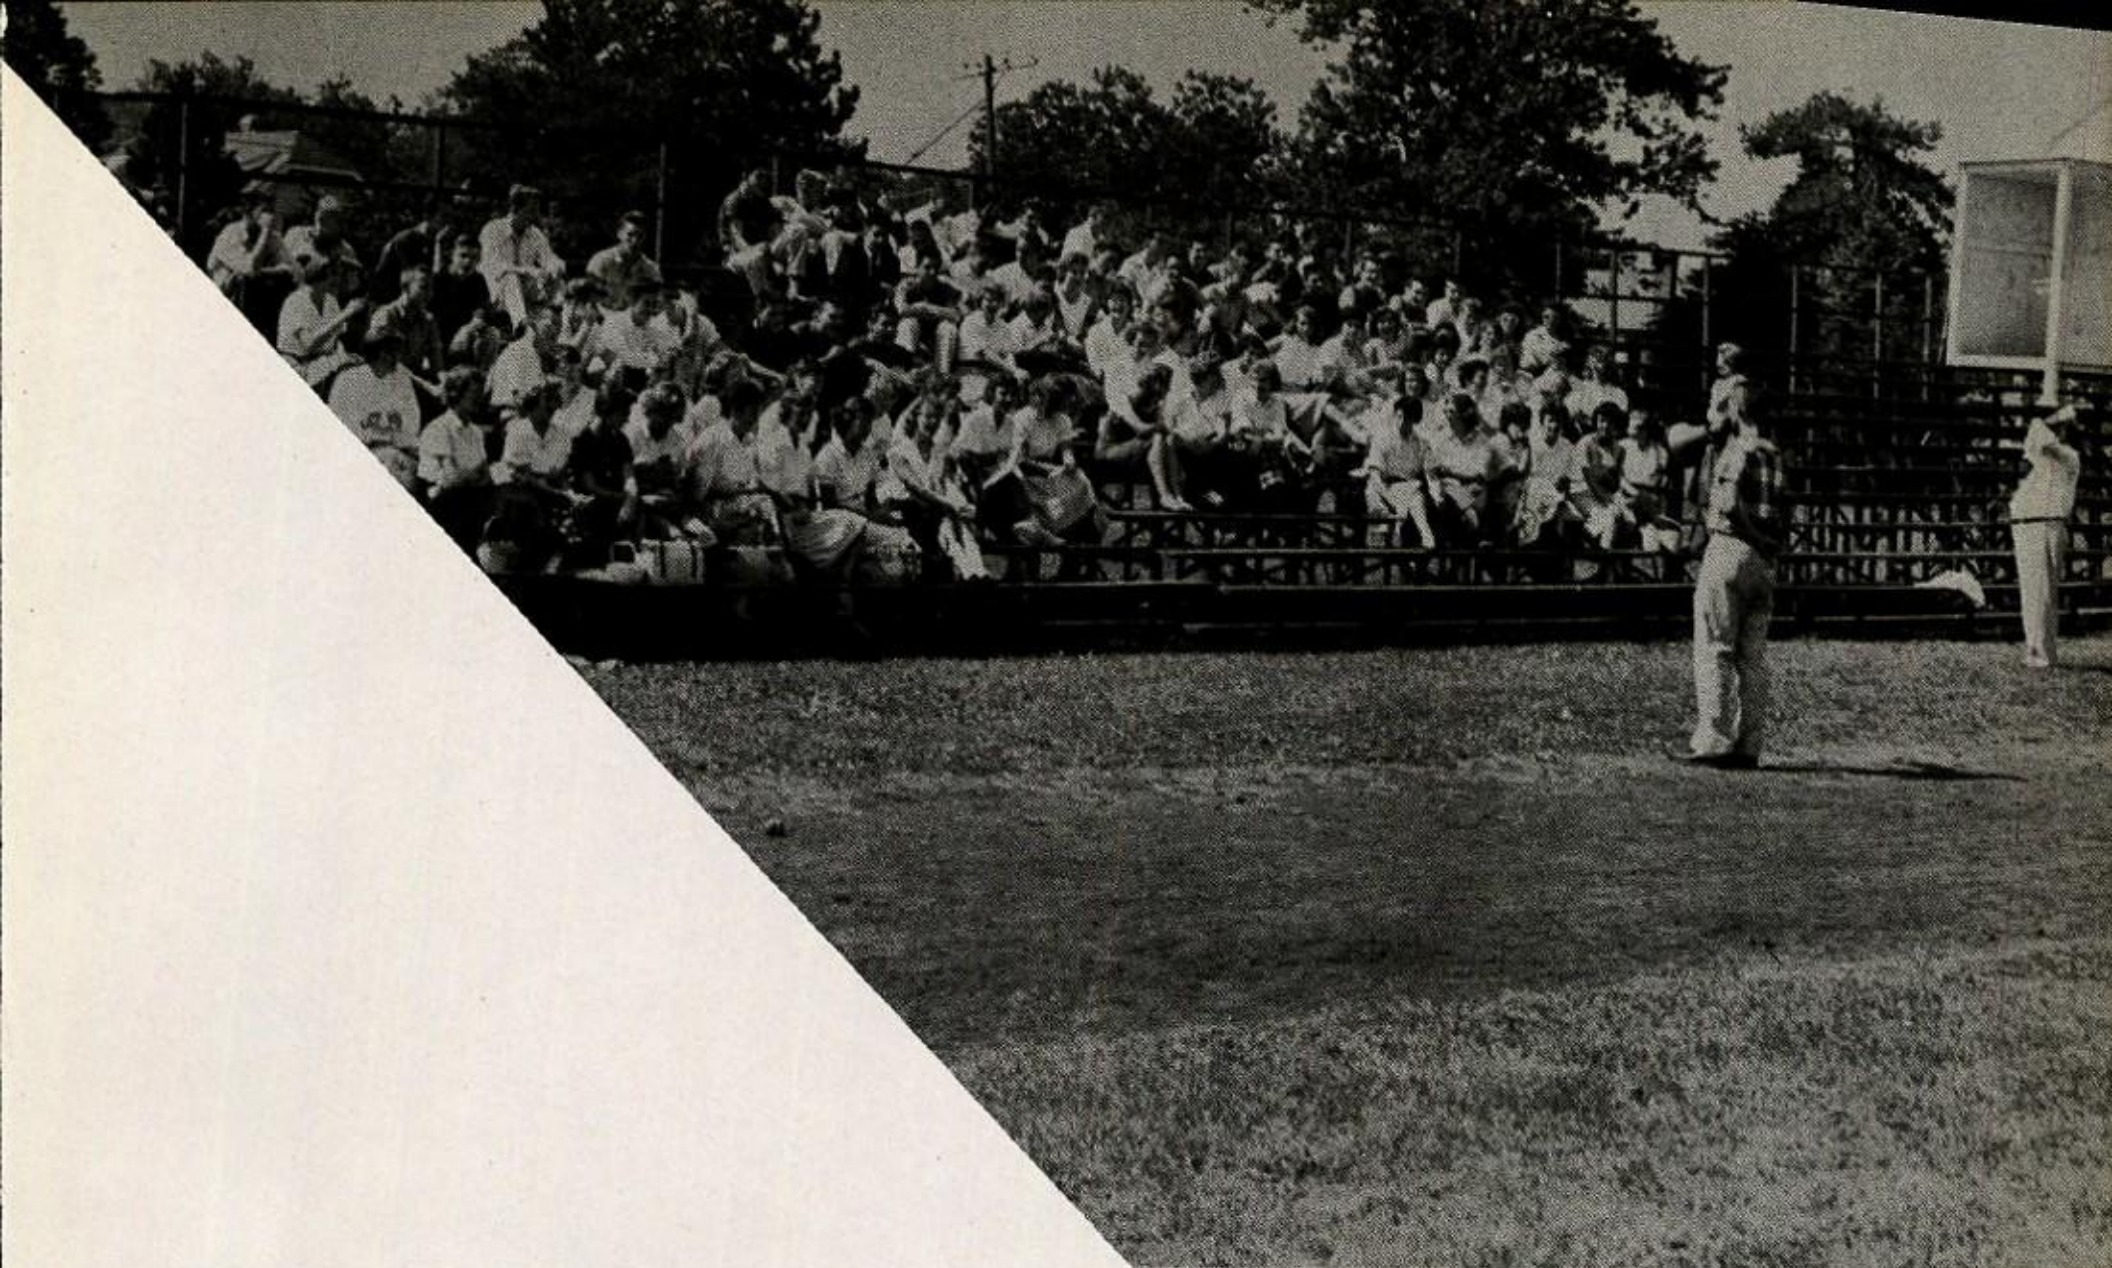

The clock rapidly ticks out seconds, each one becoming a moment to remember. For the years at Hatboro-Horsham have represented not only learning, but also the many little facets that compose life.

It is the little things we remember as well as the big things. When the dances are recalled, we remember not only the wonderful time at the dance but also the planning with our classmates, the bustle in preparation, and the anticipation of a class success. As we remember sports, we think not only of the actual games but of our teammates, our hopes, of our disappointments and our jubulations. All have been led by our heart-felt school and class spirit.

We will always remember the members of the faculty who have been friends as well as instructors.

In the flow of time our memories grow dim. However, to the class of 1959, the HI-HATTER will be invaluable in recapturing these memories. With the turning of each page of this yearbook, we will have these moments to remember.

In dedication to . . .

Throughout our high school days there have been many times when we have needed help and guidance. It was during these times that we found we could always depend upon Mrs. Crawford for the assurance we lacked to overcome our problems alone. She has been more than our language teacher. She has been our class sponsor and Student Council advisor. But above these functions, she has been our friend. Whenever we were in need of advice, Mrs. Crawford could always be counted on to give us wise counsel and the answers to our many questions. Among those things she taught us were honor, respect, and unselfishness, good citizenship and the responsibilities we have to our country, to our school, and to ourselves. As our class sponsor she has helped us gain unity as a class; as Student Council advisor, the meaning of organization and fair play; as our language instructor, the vastness of the world in which we live and the closeness of its people.

To you, Mrs. Crawford, we wish to dedicate the hard work and immeasurable efforts put into the 1959 HI-HATTER, in return, in some small way, for the priceless gifts of knowledge and inspiration you have bestowed upon us. You have instilled in our lives honesty and fairness to all other human beings. We deeply express our gratitude, with respect, appreciation, and admiration, for the guidance and support you have so unselfishly given us.

Dear Graduates:

The time has come to say "Farewell." This is not easy for you or for your teachers. For the past four years you have spent the happiest days of your life sheltered by the kind influence of Hatboro-Horsham High School. They have been important days when you were taught and trained by the able hands of many members of the administration and faculty. Not only did we endeavor to impart knowledge and instruction in the many branches taught in school, but we also made every effort to train your character in such a manner that you will have little difficulty in entering American adult society.

Saying "Farewell!" is also difficult for your teachers and principals. For many weeks and months we have watched your development. We have come to learn both your strong and your weak points. And like a good friend, who likes you regardless of your virtues or weaknesses, we look upon you much like a father or mother on their children. You have become dear to us and we are reluctant to see you leave.

However, there is this consolation. The parting is made easy if we of the school staff can see in you the determination to carry out the lessons we have taught you. If we know that our sacrifices will be rewarded, then "Farewell," instead of being a sad one, will be one of joy and happiness.

Charles S. Jones

Supervising Principal

The Administration

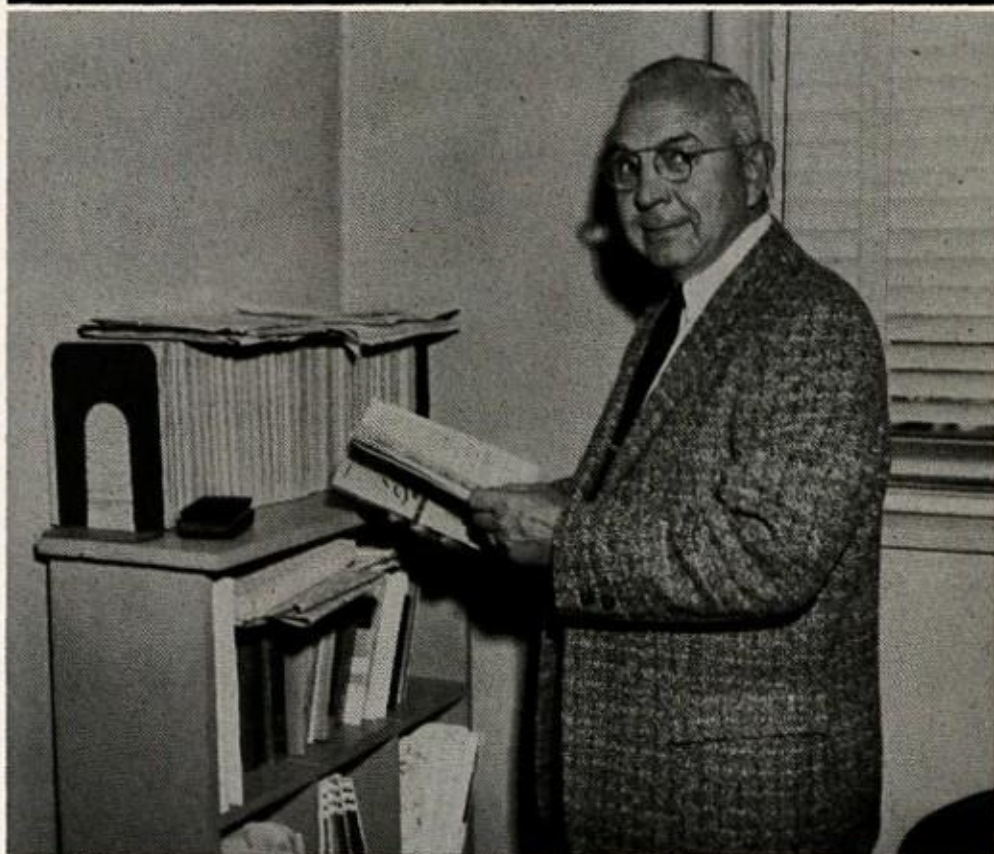

Despite his numerous duties, Mr. Jones, our supervising principal, is always willing to help those who seek his advice. Although he is seldom in direct contact with us, his friendly and understanding ways are constantly present. His willingness to aid those who needed help and encourage those who needed encouragement will never be forgotten.

We thank you, Mr. Jones, for your friendship and sincerity.

Through the years our class has thrived upon the guidance of Mr. Beshel, our principal. The problems that arose faded as we ventured in and out of his well-known office. Many times we have made use of his advice and encouragement.

We extend our thanks to Mr. Beshel for spurring us on with his vibrant enthusiasm in our activities.

Mr. Biemuller, assistant principal and an asset to the team of our administration, is never idle. His time is employed by the guidance program and the Junior High School interworkings. Yes, he is very busy, but never too busy for a few words of kindness.

Who makes all these wonderful moments to remember so dear to our hearts? It is the school board of Hatboro-Horsham High School, for our destiny is planned with their every decision.

The problems are great and the hours are long, but the board looks to our futures as we glance back on their many dilemmas, solved by conscientious votes for our welfare.

We students of Hatboro-Horsham salute these tireless men and women for their avid interest in youth. We hope the moments that they remember are those of the goals which we achieve.

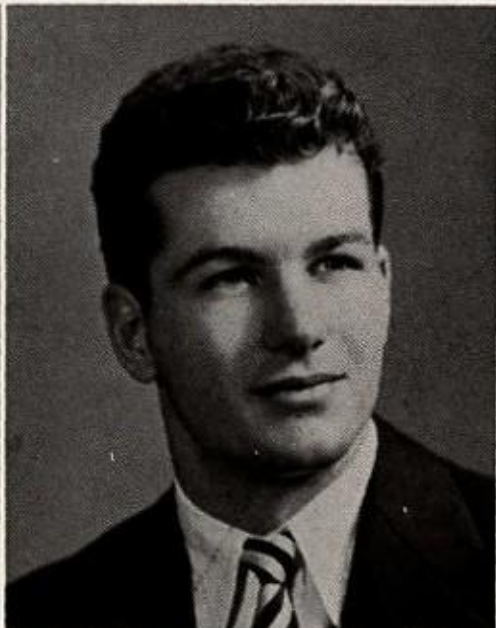

Our Faculty . .

A gift symbolizes remembrance. Have you ever stopped to think of the gifts we have received from our faculty who perhaps have given us the most useful and lasting gifts? We cannot forget their untiring help not only in our studies, but also in the planning of our futures and the wise counseling in many of our decisions and plans.

Their gifts are many and varied. From the Science, Math and Social Studies Departments comes the knowledge of natural things; from the English and Language Departments, comes the development of our language. The Art, Shop and Home Economics Departments have increased our vocational knowledge, and the Physical Education Department has presented us with adeptness. These priceless gifts will increase in value as time goes on, if we use them carefully. For these graduation gifts, we the class of '59 extend our sincerest thanks to our faculty.

Guidance – their goal, our success

Carefully reviewing a student's record are: Mr. Puglisi, Mrs. Point (seated), and Mrs. Bayer.

Through our high school days we have been in and out of the guidance office many times. The guidance program is a vital one to each student; one which is designed to make each of us realize our emotional, physical and mental potentials.

Mrs. Point is our Senior High counselor aided by Mr. Freas, the school psychologist, and Mr. Puglisi, the Junior High counselor, and Mrs. Bayer, a reading specialist.

Busily at work in the cottage is Mr. Freas, checking the scores of an achievement test.

The Library—forwarding knowledge

The magazine rack has always been a favorite in our library. Here we find Ed Stanford, Carolyn Davidson, and Linda Nagle reading the latest issues.

We owe much to our library and the valuable service it gives to each student. It seems that there is always someone in the library—whether reading a magazine, just browsing, or busily working on research. No matter where our interests lie, there is a book for us among the thousands of volumes.

Student librarians gain worthwhile experience through their work with Mrs. Stookey and Mrs. Gallagher. Their helpfulness becomes a part of our moments to remember.

The Office Staff—"Girl Fridays"

Mrs. Montague files student records as Mrs. Knapp transfers their schedules.

Keeping up with the tremendous task of operating our school is the office staff. They are responsible for correspondence, clerical work, dictation, and daily notices, as well as being "Girl Fridays." Efficiently handling these duties are: Mrs. Shirley Mullican, Mrs. Lillian Kastle, Mrs. Ellen Knapp, and Mrs. Marie Montague.

Never too busy to help a student or a member of the faculty, they are also the busy secretaries of Mr. Jones and Mr. Beshel.

We appreciate the cheerful and friendly assistance they give to us, and the capable management of business affairs they give to Hatboro-Horsham High School.

Mrs. Shirley Mullican takes an important phone call for Mr. Beshel as Mrs. Kastle photographs forms on the Verifax.

The Kitchen Staff—culinary artists

Smiling faces and tempting menus are important things at a lunch hour and our efficient staff has both of these. They are always found busily preparing the meals of the day and working hard on the menus for the next day.

No matter how busy Mrs. Loeser may be, she always finds time to flash a beaming smile at anyone who looks her way.

Mrs. Poorman, one of the most efficient ladies of our cafeteria staff, slices meat for a favorite dish of all, creamed dried beef.

The Janitors—behind the scenes workers

The friendly janitors are continually busy in their efforts to keep our building facilities in top condition. Their many services, such as cleaning up after dances and sports events, are greatly appreciated by sponsors of these events. Many times throughout the year they are called upon and they are always reliable and willing to help.

Right: Repairing equipment is one of the manifold duties of Mr. Buskirk, Mr. Griem, and Mr. Russ.

The Bus Drivers and the Nurse—indispensable

The bus drivers can easily be compared to the mailmen—they always get through. These men have an important responsibility for they must see that the students arrive at school safely. Besides their regular runs, they perform extra service by driving the team buses to the away games.

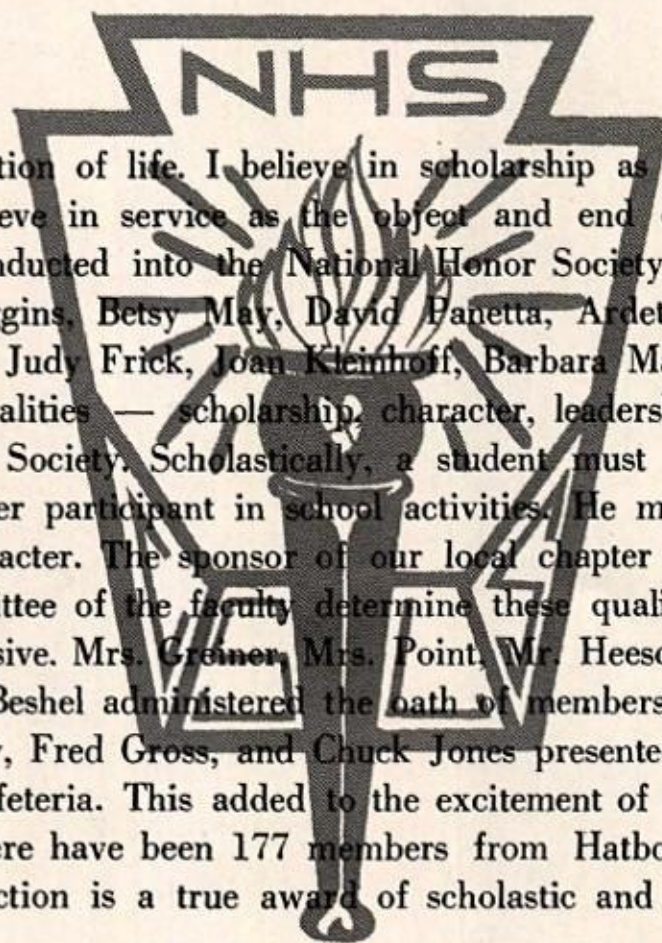

Performing a vital health service to the school is our nurse, Miss Dorothy Seiple. Taking care of sickness during the school day is merely one of her functions. Such duties as taking weights and measurements, assisting in eye and ear tests, and setting up the chest x-ray project are equally important. Many times she is called upon to “chauffeur” sick students home. As most of the little known services, the nurse provides indispensable help.

National Honor Society . . .

"I believe in character as the foundation of life. I believe in scholarship as the means to achievement. I believe in leadership as an aid to progress. I believe in service as the object and end of living." Upon reciting these words, seven seniors and eight juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society this year. The new members were Carol Gillmore, Richard Haigler, Patricia Higgins, Betsy May, David Panetta, Ardeth Parry, Mary Anne Pollock, Mildred Barnes, Sylvia Emerson, Gordon Evans, Judy Frick, Joan Kleinhoff, Barbara Marsden, David Orman, and Mary Quinn.

These students excel in the four qualities — scholarship, character, leadership, and service — which are necessary to be a member of the National Honor Society. Scholastically, a student must maintain a 2.4 average throughout his high school career. He must be an eager participant in school activities. He must have the attributes of a leader and be upright, honest, and virtuous in character. The sponsor of our local chapter of the National Honor Society is Mrs. Mae Mickey Stookey. She and a committee of the faculty determine these qualities in all of the eligible students.

This year's induction was quite impressive. Mrs. Greiner, Mrs. Point, Mr. Heeson, and Mr. Gallagher spoke on the four ideals of the Honor Society. After Mr. Beshel administered the oath of membership, the present members, Barbra Eaton, Minna Hankin, Irene Loeser, Ken Daley, Fred Gross, and Chuck Jones presented the new inductees with pins. After the ceremony a dinner was given in the cafeteria. This added to the excitement of the joyous occasion.

Over a period of twenty-one years there have been 177 members from Hatboro-Horsham High School inducted into the National Honor Society. This induction is a true award of scholastic and moral achievement.

Activities

Under the excellent sponsorship of Mrs. Crawford and the competent handling of the officers, the Student Council strives to please, aid, and co-operate with the student body. Elected to office were Thomas Wirth, President; Joan Kleinhoff, Vice-President; and Ruth Robinson, Treasurer. Joyce Hafner and Mary Anne Pollock were chosen as the Recording and Corresponding Secretaries.

Since the Student Council was divided into Junior and Senior High groups, it was possible to have the various school activities represented. As a result, much more was accomplished.

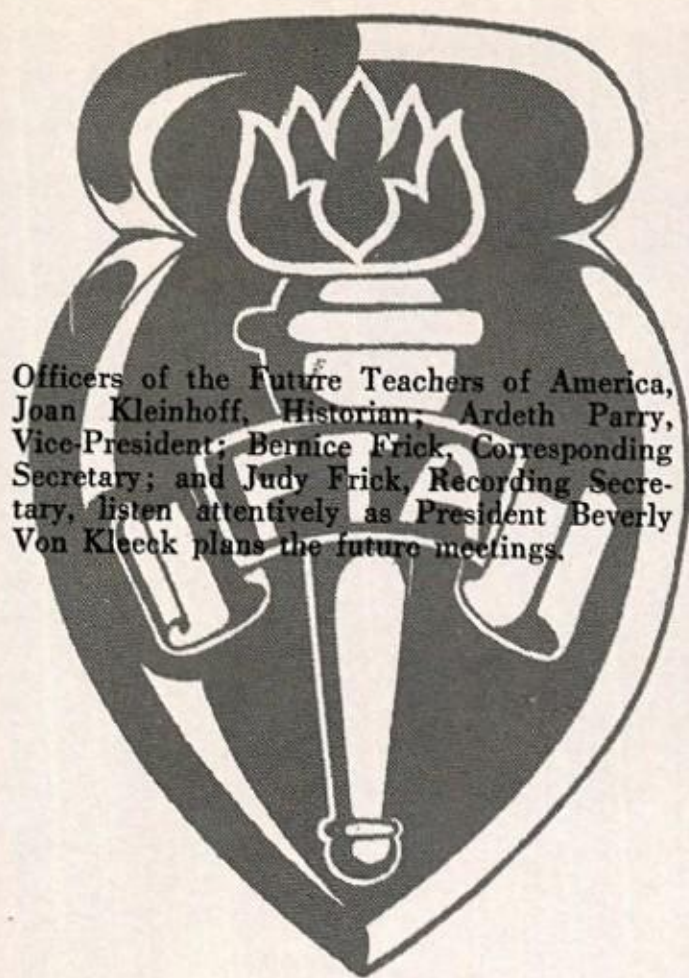

As we look back, we will have the memories which the Student Council has given us—our Football and May Queens, the Student Council Dance, Tag Day, the posture contest, pretty usherettes and the Honor Roll Plaque.

We extend our thanks for everything, both small and great, which was accomplished by this efficient governing body of Hatboro-Horsham High School.

F.T.A. — nucleus of future education

Officers of the Future Teachers of America, Joan Kleinhoff, Historian; Ardeth Parry, Vice-President; Bernice Frick, Corresponding Secretary; and Judy Frick, Recording Secretary, listen attentively as President Beverly Von Kleeck plans the future meetings.

Meeting on the first Wednesday of each month, the twenty-nine members of the Bartle-Highfield Future Teachers of America Club endeavor to learn more about the teaching profession. Membership in the club is open to anyone in grades ten, eleven, and twelve who is interested in the teaching profession. There are a few freshmen in the club who will form the nucleus of the Future Teachers of America Club in the Junior High School.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Point and the direction of its president, Beverly von Kleeck, the club has carried out many projects. Throughout the year, members of the club have attended a meeting at Abington Senior High School and have had guest speakers talk to them about such subjects as "Student Teaching" and "Education in Europe." The members have also observed various teachers in the school in their fields of interest and some have been fortunate enough to teach some classes.

Debate Club—challenges for the mind

Barbra Eaton presents her argument to the Debate Club as Fern Spurlin, Secretary of the Bux-Ches-Mont Forum League, takes notes.

Sharpening their wits, the members of the Debating Club actively participated in three forums this year and sent delegates to eight. The topics under discussion by Hatboro students were "The Far East Situation," "Authority of the Supreme Court," and "The Plight of U.S. Education." Other activities included the Model U.N. and the Temple Forum. This was their most active year to date.

The sponsor, Mr. George, who also presides over the Bux-Ches-Mont Forum League, has set up a program designed to develop the public speaking techniques and general intellectual tone of the members.

An activity such as this gives the participants from various schools a chance to meet each other and promotes good inter-school relations. After each debate a dinner is served, entertainment is offered, and they are invited to enjoy themselves in dancing. In providing "mental gymnastics," the Debating Club is doing its part in rounding out the school program.

Mr. George addresses the club members: Betsy May, Mary Anne Pollock, Carolyn Davidson, Grace Detrick, Bob Benson, Carol Gillmore, Ken Daley, Stefanie Ott, Bernice Frick, Dave Panetta, Barbra Eaton, Susy Gallagher, Fern Spurlin, Tom Wirth, Minna Hankin, and Tom Webster.

Key Club—future leaders

The Key Club, which was organized in 1954, is a service organization under the faculty direction of Mr. Ben and sponsored by the Kiwanis of Hatboro. The officers of the club are: President, Tom Webster; Vice-President, Fred Gross; Treasurer, Dave Panetta; and Secretary, Allen Savin. The members of the club live under the highest ideals set for the betterment of their school and they are dedicated to render unselfish service in building a better community.

Four sophomores and four juniors are selected yearly. For acceptance, the student must have a high scholastic average, a good moral background, and be active in the activities of the school.

This year the Key Club undertook numerous projects and many responsibilities were accepted.

Headed by their President, Tom Webster, Key Club members discuss plans for their annual Valentine Dance.

Memories marching on

Always out in front, leading their band is the Hatboro-Horsham colorguard. These vivacious and energetic girls add color and sparkle to the band. They participated in many parades this past year and led their band in the victory march over Upper Moreland. There are four rifles, two flags and usually a substitute. Tryouts for colorguard are at the end of each school year and the aspirants can only be in tenth grade because much preparation is involved.

To be a good member one must be willing to come to each practice and have the ability to get along well with others. The girls who have marched this past year will never forget the wonderful memories they have shared together.

Twirling into the future

They assist in teaching younger students the basics of twirling in co-operation with the Booster program. They also participate in assemblies, pep rallies, and annual parades.

The majorettes this past year were Eleanor Kostick, Head Majorette; Jeryl Clayton, Betty Lou Knipe, Beverly Erwin, and Judy Geuther. They presented an interesting variety of programs during the football season. Their themes included "Mouskateers," "Highland Lassies," and "Armed Forces." For the Thanksgiving Day Game, their theme was "Oklahoma." Clad in attractive checked gingham with bonnets to match, they put on a memorable performance. Their colorful season was climaxed by leading a victory march through Hatboro.

Judy Geuther

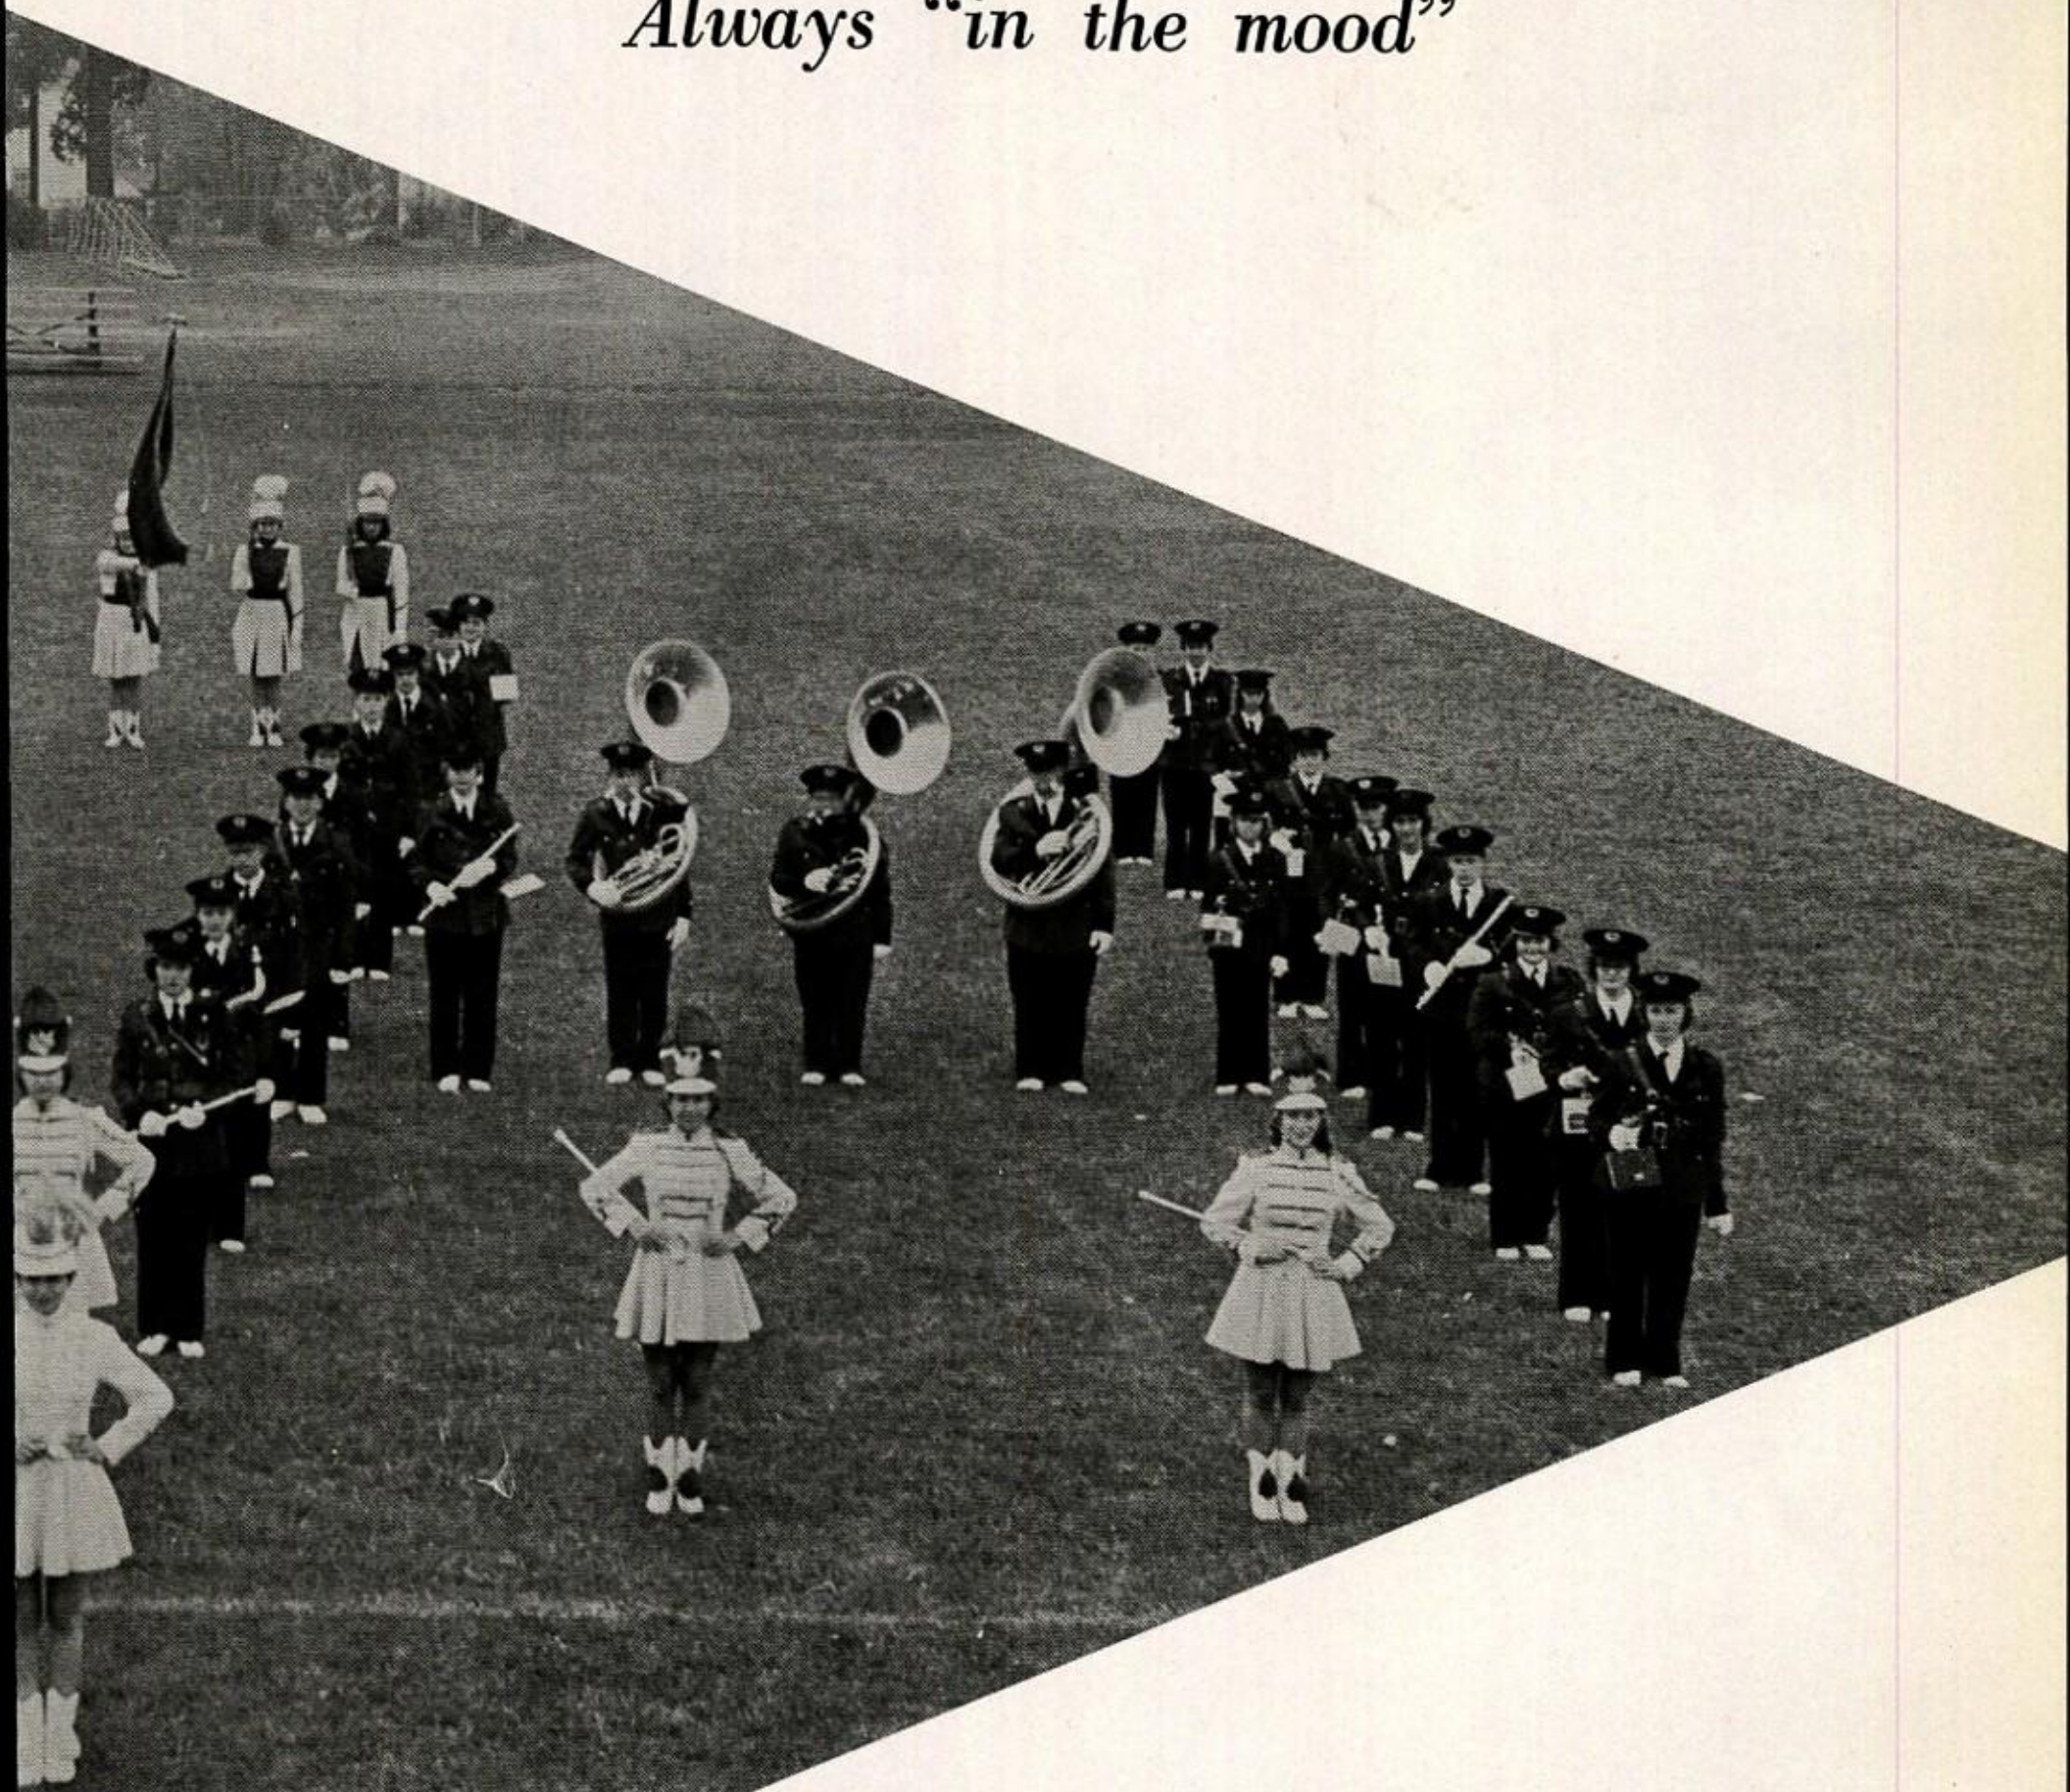

The Hatboro-Horsham High School Band . . .

This year the band displayed its musical talents at all of the football games, adding that moral support which is essential. Their supreme thrill came with the victory march as a climax to the Thanksgiving Day Game.

Although it gives the band much publicity, the football season actually takes in only a part of their activities. Can you imagine a pep rally or an assembly without the band? They also sponsored two dances, "Autumn Leaves" and "Rock Around the Clock." The first was a turnabout at which the "Hi-Hatters" played. Both dances proved to be very successful.

Always "in the mood"

Early in the year officers were elected for this organization. Chuck Jones, Ginny Gerhart, Dottie Krueger, and Ginny Maeyer were chosen respectively as President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

That man with the baton who is seen out in front is the band's able leader, Mr. Donald Hetrick. The fine organization which the band has now acquired is a result of his guiding hand.

This year many talented musicians were honored by playing in the Bux-Mont Band, District Band, District Orchestra, and State Band.

Two of our best-known entertainment groups at Hatboro-Horsham are the Mixed Chorus and the Dance Band.

In October, the first tryouts for Mixed Chorus were held and the best voices were chosen. The big events for the Mixed Chorus are the annual Christmas and the Spring Concert. Their presentations are always a treat to the community and naturally are well attended. Much credit must be given to the director of the Mixed Chorus, Mr. Donald Hetrick, who has spent many patient hours in their training and practice.

Practice makes perfect and that is exactly what has made the Hatboro-Horsham Dance Band what it is today. Under the keen direction of Mr. Hetrick, the "Hi-Hatters" have progressed quite rapidly during the past school year. Playing at our school dances has given the dance band just the practice it needs to be successful in outside engagements.

Within the dance band itself are several smaller groups including a combo, a dixieland band, and a vocal. Carolyn Davidson has been vocalist for three years. Undertaking many jobs, some involving keen competition, the dance band has found itself always striving forward. This year the "Hi-Hatters" will have played for many outside dances, proms, assemblies, banquets, and several talent contests.

Our Football Queen and . .

Our lovely Football Queen, Joyce Hafner, and her attractive court, Judith Getz, Susanne Heacock, Barbara Marsden, Joan Lear, Barbara Scholey, and Karen MacKenzie, brought our team the luck it needed to win on Thanksgiving Day. Sponsored by Student Council for the first year, the girls arrived on the field in convertibles donated for the occasion by automobile dealers in the area. Amid the fervid pre-game excitement our beautiful queen was crowned by co-captain, Edward Stanford. We hope that our future queens will bring our teams as much luck as Joyce did on that unforgettable day.

and Barbara Scholey look on. That evening Joyce was honored at the "Roman Holiday" sponsored by the Juniors.

The social function which climaxed the school year, and was anticipated since we entered high school, was the Junior-Senior Prom. School work forgotten, thoughts of the night ahead, counting the hours, we rushed home in an attempt to be ready on time. The excitement of that lovely evening was amplified by the announcement of the new Student Council President. The months of preparation and waiting culminated in an evening which will be one of our "Golden Memories."

The dinner was so delicious but even more so were the soda and cakes served during the dancing. Here Jack Taylor gets some refreshments for his date Jean Lehman.

As the Junior Class of 1958, we held the Junior-Senior Prom at Meadowlands Country Club in honor of the graduating Seniors. It was the one day of May which will always be remembered.

Spirit Committee—An asset to our school

The Spirit Committee, sponsored by Mr. James Gallagher, is one of the most active organizations in the school. Its services are countless; the members seek to accomplish that which may better the school.

Projects of the club are diversified. Dances are sponsored, posters are made, the trophy case is cleaned, and assemblies are planned and presented. Annual awards are presented to the most spirit-minded student in the school, and to a citizen who has benefited his community.

In addition to promoting school spirit, the committee performs services such as polishing the trophies. Ginny Maeyer polishes as Velga Ramins hands the Snellenburg's trophy to Joyce Hafner.

The A-V Club—Junior Technicians

Whenever sound, lighting, and photography are needed in an activity around the school, the Audio-Visual Aids Club is on the job. Dances, assemblies, sports events, and musical activities all mean work for these junior technicians. They are always found behind the scenes adjusting lights, testing microphones, and flashing snapshots.

These boys participate in the only year round activity in our school. The summer dances would not be possible without their help in the amplification. The big job of the year for the club was the Junior-Senior Play, which tested their talents in lighting effects.

Dramatics Club

An addition to the organizations of our school is the Dramatics Club, sponsored by Miss Barbara Plummer. The club took an intensive part in activities this year. At Christmas, they presented an amusing program of skits satirizing holiday preparations. In the Student Council Talent Show, several members had a prominent part. Revealing another side of their talent, they presented a minstrel show in the spring.

Although it is newly-founded, the club has taken great strides in becoming well established. The members have proven their ability to organize by handling the backstage work and business end of the annual Junior-Senior Play given in April.

Much credit is due Miss Plummer for the many hours of service that she has rendered to this activity. This club shows signs of becoming one of the most popular ones around the school.

Days of fun and activity

Above: What are you looking for, Sandy? It seems that money disappears in strange ways. Arthur performs one of his many activities in aiding Sandy.

Above right: "Grelots sonnent! Grelots sonnent!" . . . and the Christmas caroling was under way. Under the supervision of Mrs. Crawford and the professional direction of Carolyn Davidson, the language department presented its annual Christmas program. Stefanie Ott soloed "Cantique Pour Noel" as the singing promoted the true spirit of Christmas.

Right: "D.L.D." has become well known on the lunch menus. These initials belong to Ken Daley and Carolyn Davidson (pictured) and Sandy Lennartz (not pictured). For two years Ken has drawn the menus, Sandy typed them, and Carolyn distributed them.

Below: Boom, rang, sis, bang! Yea Glick! Carolyn Davidson and Grace Detrick added to our lively pep rallies with 'their rollicking shenanigans.

Hat Chat—fine experience . .

Below: Members of the staff hold many interviews to gain accurate information for the paper. David Panetta and Richard Haigler interview Mrs. Crawford concerning her trip to Mexico.

Much of the paper is planned directly by the reporters in the weekly meetings. Minna Hankin presides over a meeting attended by Carol Hyde, Elsie May Vickery, Katherine Bauer, Suzanne Heacock, Bernice Frick, Chris Nuessle, and Jacob Deery. Absent are: Bruce Keidan, Elsie Foley, Nancy Haines, Polly McAboy, Merle Tomaryn, typists, Dorothy Heierbacker, Patricia Higgins, Diane Marsh, and photographers, Robert MacMullen, Frank Webster, and George Schiebner.

This year a large staff of enthusiastic students devoted much time to the Hat Chat, the school newspaper. Their efforts to attain an interesting and accurate paper were rewarded with a high sales record.

The procedure of publishing the five issues of the paper is a simplified version of the publishing methods of a big city paper. The workings of a large paper are carried out on a small scale—the everlasting search for news, the story assignments, the writing and typing, the editing and proofreading, and the layout.

Mr. Philip T. Heesen and Mr. Edgar J. Elmy, sponsors of the paper, greatly aided the staff in achieving their aim of a constantly better publication.

For future journalists

Pictures to appear in the Hat Chat are studied by Roger Furlin, photographer; Debbie Wilgus, photography co-ordinator; Chris Nuessle, and Ken Daley, Hat Chat artist.

Hi-Hatter—much work, long hours, deadlines, and . . .

The co-editors, Fern Spurlin, Ken Daley, and Bob Benson, with their sponsor, Mr. Don Gallagher, look up from their work.

In October 1958, when the Hi-Hatter staff was organized, we, its members, were inexperienced students totally unaware of the demanding position in which we had placed ourselves. For most of us, the proverbial blissful ignorance prevailed through the first months of school, although our co-editors, Bob Benson, Ken Daley, and Fern Spurlin, were encountering the first difficult work—that of preparing the yearbook dummy.

As the days went by, realization of our duties came suddenly and to most, unmercifully. The theme had to be chosen, pictures taken, and time for numerous, hasty, sometimes argumentative meetings of the staff. Copy assignments were distributed and layout was started. Although late in November the staff was working with less hesitation, discord and fewer mistakes than before, an immense amount of work remained to be completed before the first deadline, December 12.

At last, the first copy was sent to the publishers in Dallas, Texas.

The sudden cessation of work generously mixed with nervous tension, was a great relief to every staff member.

Successive deadlines were met with fervor, but the important thing is they were met and the book you now read was completed.

Layout was the most important job in preparing the HI-HATTER. It determines the success or failure of the yearbook. Above are the layout artists: Bo Benson, Ken Daley, and Betsy May.

The features, headings, captions, and titles are all necessary for a yearbook. This was part of the work of Carolyn Davidson, Chris Nuessle, Joyce Hafner, Dave Panetta, Susie Heacock, Mary Anne Pollock, Minna Hankin, and Carol Gillmore.

Another class which will be graduating this year is the ninth grade, or the "seniors" of Keith Junior High School. The new school on Meetinghouse Road in Horsham was opened for classes in February. Setting the junior high apart from the rest of the student body was a move which gave them a new scope of freedom and activities. The ninth grade will have the honor of being Keith's first graduating class. Next year they will return to the senior high as sophomores.

Early in the year the class officers were chosen: Robert Armstrong, President; Harriet Collins, Vice-President; Janice Frick, Treasurer; and Jeanette Gier, Secretary.

The oldest class in the junior high, it has been the most active in the newly-formed student council. The annual Freshman Dance was held and hailed as a tremendous success. All in all, this class has the potential of a top-notch group of students.

Mr. Groves, Freshman Sponsor, discusses new school policies with student council representatives, Curt Ferguson and Fred Ewald.

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class, guided by its sponsors, Mr. Alden, Mr. Staffieri, Mr. Gladnick, Mr. Ben, Miss Plummer, and Mrs. McNeil, has become an integral part of the senior high. It has provided many social functions for the student body, and the members of the class have participated in all school activities.

Class officers, John White, President; Barbara Scholey, Vice-President; Judith Geuther, Secretary; and Kathleen Baxindine, Treasurer; have led the sophomores in all class projects.

Several sophomore projects were outstanding. After a peppy contest, the class captured third place in the football ticket drive, thereby adding a sizable amount to their treasury through the candy concession.

Sophomore dances served a double purpose; they provided both fun and a source of income to the treasury. The Sophomore Hop was a highlight of the social events of the year.

The Sophomore Class has produced great things in the past; we can look to the future with the knowledge that this class will succeed.

Spirit quick and lively . . .

"Have a Clark Bar," says Karen White to Bruce Spurlin, "and support our Sophomore Class."

Considered by many to be the most successful and hard-working class in the school is the junior class, which elected David Orman, President; Anthony Longo, Vice-President; Sylvia Emerson, Secretary, and Barbara Marsden, Treasurer. This combination, along with Joan Kleinhoff, Student Council Vice-President, round out the juniors' contribution to school leadership. Sponsoring the class are, Mr. Herman, Mrs. Blythe, Mr. James Gallagher, and Mr. Thomas.

From the time the Class of '60 entered high school, they were filled with school spirit. As freshmen they sold candy, and as sophomores they were found selling Cokes at basketball games, as well as football games. This year they were successful in attaining their goal of winning the first prize in the season ticket drive, the hotdog concession. The Thanksgiving Dance, "Roman Holiday," traditionally given by the Junior Class, showed what the co-operation of a closely knit class can accomplish.

Members of this industrious class take part in nearly every activity in school. Many of the boys are members of varsity squads in football, baseball, basketball, and track. Hockey, volleyball, and basketball teams are made up of many capable girls from this sports-minded class. The majority of both the varsity and jayvee cheerleading squads is composed of junior girls. This class is represented by its members in all other extra-curricular activities.

Nearing their final goal . . .

Seniors

The Senior Class of 1959

Class Motto
"The highest of distinction is service to others."

Class Colors
Green and White

We, The Class of 1959, have exemplified the spirit of service to others since our existence as an educational unit. As freshmen, our class carried out its motto by participation in the Cordon Traffic Count. Shortly after the cooperation in this project, we handled a door to door poll as a service for the Borough. By pooling our efforts we won the Coke concession in the ticket drive and later sponsored two freshman dances.

As sophomores we were little "big wheels" on the campus. Again our class won the privilege of selling Cokes at the football games. We also initiated this at the basketball games. As a class, we presented the annual Sophomore Hop with the theme of "Moonlight and Roses." The gymnasium was magically transformed into a beautiful ballroom overflowing with roses.

Thanksgiving of our junior year brought forth our "Underwater Fantasy" semi-formal which again exhibited our classmates' artistic talent at its best. Our enthusiasm also excelled all others that year, for we won the Football Ticket Drive and therefore received the hot dog concession. The culmination of all our activities of that year was the prom given for the class of 1958 in May. Months and months of preparation, planning, and hard work were devoted to make it a success. And a success it was! "Golden Memories," as it was so aptly entitled, will never be forgotten by those who attended.

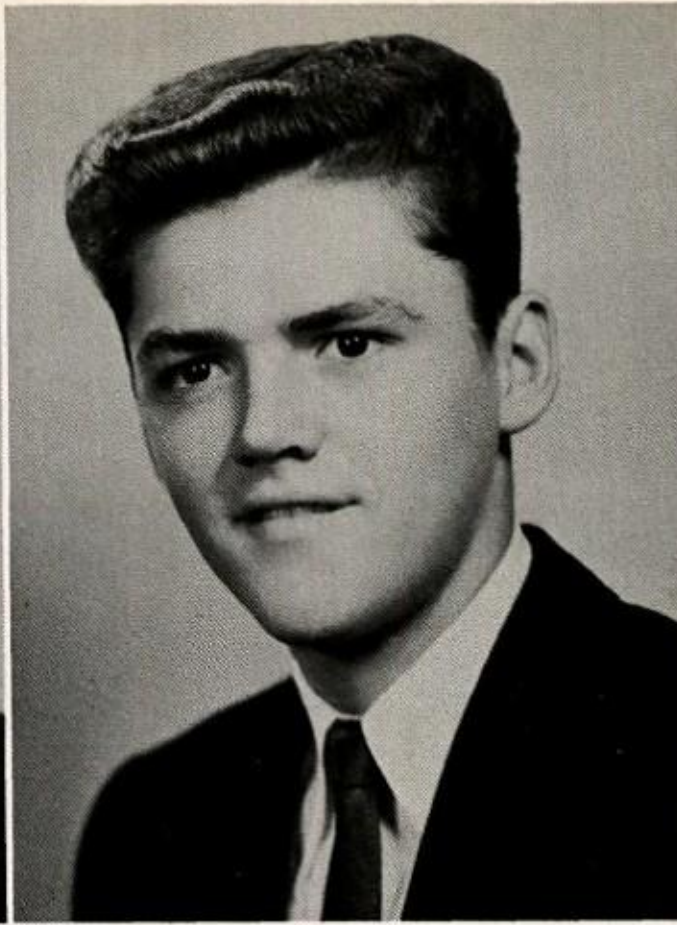

As last it arrived—our Senior year! We were THE "big wheels" on the campus. For the fourth straight year we won a concession in the ticket drive. Almost every other Saturday night we sponsored a dance. Christmas meant the card sale and we all canvassed the neighborhoods searching for prospective buyers. This season also meant "Candy Cotillion," our last class sponsored semi-formal.

As we look back our Senior year will certainly be a glowing ember in the memory of our lives. We will remember our lovely football and May Queens, the long awaited Washington trip, the prom given in our honor, baccalaureate, and our final goal . . . graduation. Each event will be one of our many moments to remember.

Varsity Football—a thrilling climax

The past football season was one long to be remembered. The team coached by Mr. James Gallagher, Mr. Harry Hollihan, and Mr. Daniel Staffieri, provided the spectators with a variety of gridiron highlights. Who could forget Ed Stanford's placement that gave us a 7-6 win over William Tennent after Al Savin had blocked their extra point bid.

Although we lost to Pennridge, it will be hard to forget the 79 yard interception return by Fred Gross. And we can't exclude the timely tackle by Vince Mandes in the Souderton end zone in the final minutes of play as we defeated the Indians 2-0!

Ne'er to be forgotten was the annual Thanksgiving game on our own field. Sophomore back, Charles Lee, led our offense to a three touchdown victory and in an extraordinary way. Playing the "lonesome halfback," Charlie caught a pass from quarterback Mike Mignon and outraced his defenders for 79 yards. A short time later a similar play made it possible for the hero of the day to cover 75 yards for the second goal. In the final quarter Charlie scampered 15 yards around the right side for the third score, rounding out an 18-0 victory.

But this spirited sophomore was not the only outstanding player of the game. Behind the scenes the remaining ten players set up the defense that made Charlie Lee's scoring possible. They fought as a team, scored as a team, and we will always remember the victory they earned as a team.

"The day we tore the goal post down . . ."

The cheerleaders are an important part of our school athletic program. With their boundless pep and energy, they are constantly on the go, boosting the school spirit.

Sponsored by Mr. Orr and led by Betsy May, our Varsity squad is found at football and basketball games, as well as pep rallies, and assemblies. In all kinds of weather the peppy seven keep the spectators full of vigor.

Their untiring efforts were well rewarded on Thanksgiving Day as they led the fans in cheering the team on to victory.

These two peppy gals, Susie Heacock and Joyce Hafner, have been "Hats" for the past two years; their glowing school spirit will certainly be missed, both on the football field and around the school.

To be a "Hat," a girl must have all the qualifications of a cheerleader, plus a spirit of unselfishness. Being a "Hat," a girl must forget about herself, and think only of the team.

The only reward for being a "Hat" is the satisfaction that comes to you knowing that you have done your best to support your team.

and Victory!

The Junior High Football Team, coached by Mr. John Groves and Mr. Robert Bradley, ended a fairly successful season with a record of three wins and three defeats. Led by Bruce Nagle QB, Douglas Costa FB, and Allan Hanstead C, the team beat Plymouth Whitemarsh, Elkins Park, and Thomas Williams.

The 115 Pound Team also had its moments of glory. Going into their last game with a 1-3 record, the charges of Mr. Rudy Rosenberger nosed out undefeated Enfield 2 to 0. With eleven seconds remaining, back Lee Lewis tackled the Enfield quarterback in the end zone for a safety and the two necessary points.

Interested girls begin working in seventh grade to reach their goal of being a varsity cheerleader. To help them gain experience, there are two intermediate squads—the Junior High and the Junior Varsity. Captained by Suzanne Landis, the Junior High Squad was seen at both the Junior High football and basketball games. Our J.V. squad had two co-captains for the first time. Mary Massimilla and Carol Hamburg led the girls in keeping the spectators full of pep. We appreciate their activity in promoting our school spirit.

Under the efficient and spirited leadership of "Coach" Blythe and Captain Beverly Von Kleeck, the 1958 Hockey Team completed a successful schedule. Donning their new red tunics for the first time, the team ended a three game losing streak by winning or tying their remaining games. Although their record was not perfect, the season was considered successful for many reasons: the squad defeated our arch rival, Upper Moreland, by a score of 1 to 0; they were the only team to mar the record of North Penn, the league champs, by tying them 2 to 2; and they compiled the best team record of the past five years (2 wins, 3 losses, 2 ties).

The Junior Varsity completed their season with a record of three losses and four ties. In a total of seven games, they held their opponents to four points. These Hatters did not score throughout the season, but they showed that they had plenty of fight and spirit.

Varsity Basketball

There were a few sunny spots in the past basketball season of the Red and Black. The record failed to dampen the spirits of the loyal fans who turned out to watch en masse.

Naturally the three brightest pictures in the album of Coach Hollihan were his team's wins over Bux-Mont quintets. The Hatters opened up the season hopefully when they downed the scrappy William Tennent five 43-37. This marked the third straight year in which a Hatboro five has triumphed over the Panthers in their annual court series.

After two defeats at the hands of Central Bucks and North Penn, the duo of Bernie Bamford and Ed Stanford combined for thirty points against the Souderton Indians, and the Hatters gained a 63-56 triumph. Bernie had eighteen, his season high, while Ed chipped in with twelve. The deadly jump shooting of the two, combined with the rebounding work of Tom Wirth and Bob Bazzel lent a pleasant note to the 1958-1959 season.

The Hatters made it two in a row when they downed heavily favored Pennridge by a 47-39 count. Led by Wirth and Bazzel, who each racked up twelve points, with able assistance by Wyatt, Stanford, and Bamford, they overcame a half-time advantage held by the Rams and pulled away in the third period to gain their second triumph.

The second half of the season provided the third bright spot for Hatboro fans. The Hatters, paced by Ed Stanford with fifteen tallies, bounced back from the doldrums of defeat to down Upper Perkiomen, 57-53.

The next encounter marked the last contest for Bernie Bamford, the ever-hustling guard and top-notch rebounder. The loss of Bamford and a defeat by Central Bucks could not diminish a seventeen point performance by Ed Stanford and the fact that Jack Taylor came into his own with fourteen.

It was not an outstanding season but it will have many memories such as the 37-18 encounter with champion Ambler. The season had its light moments as well as the disappointing ones and it contained many which cannot be set down in a recordbook.

Good ball handling was characteristic of the Hatters throughout the season. This was especially evident in the Ambler "freeze." Below a pass finds its way between a maze of Pennridge players from Tom Wirth to Ed Stanford. To the right, Tom flips in a jump shot for two points.

A fiery fighter when the chips are down, Fred Wyatt (No. 75) drives in for a lay-up and two more points.

Coached by Ed Moore, the Hatboro-Horsham cindermen initiated the 1959 season with several weeks of intensive conditioning indoors. Upon adjournment to the outdoors, each man set about the task of developing his particular specialty. Speed, strength and agility were the aims of all.

The senior cindermen made their appearances in the shot put, hurdles, half mile and mile events. Junior trackmen made their bid for recognition in the shot put, mile, high jump, broad jump and hurdle events. Rounding out the '59 team were the sophomores, who made up the majority of the squad. The coordinating of the individual effort set the stage for the ultimate end—a successful season.

Skill and Coordination

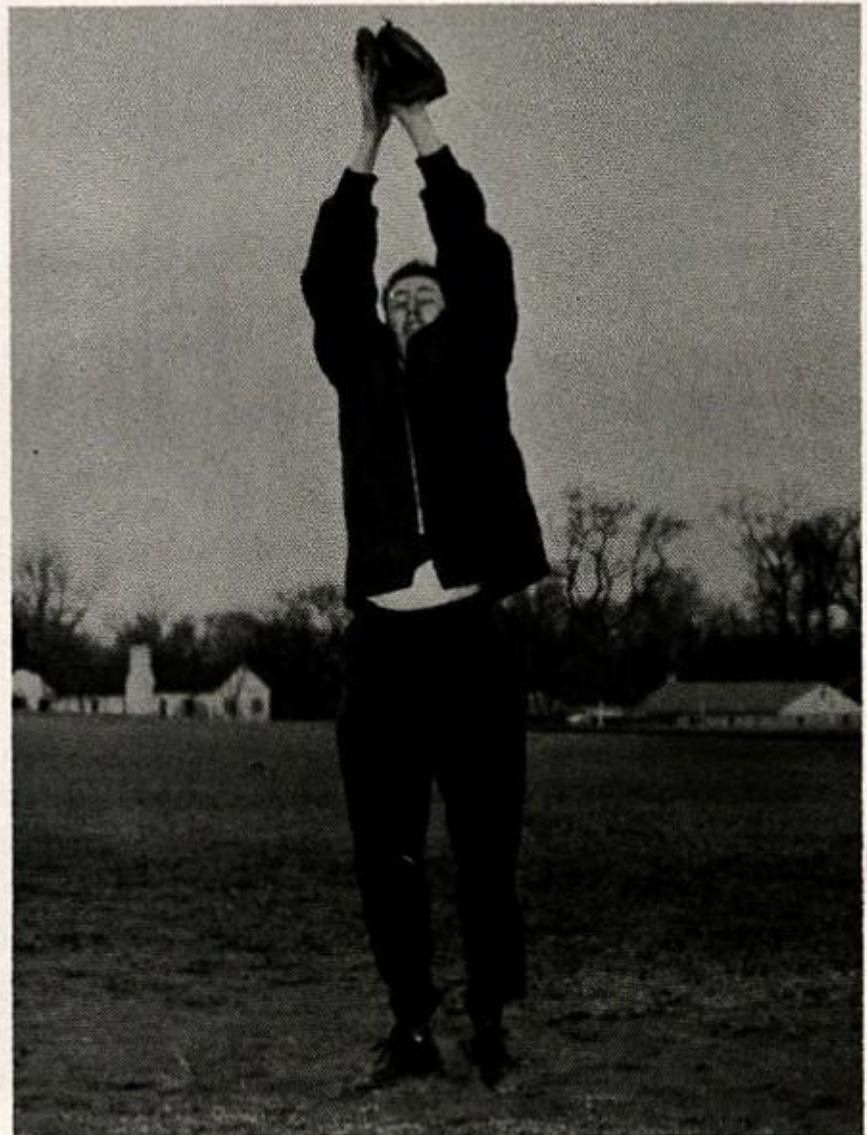

The 1959 baseball season, after a slow start due to bad weather, was one dominated by hard practice and exhaustive training. The team reported early in March and began work on their various specialties, as well as all round practice. For the season's opener at Central Bucks there were Don Evans at first base, Vince Mandes at second, Ed Stanford at shortstop, John McMullen at third. In the outfield there were Glenn Kaiser, Evan Ferguson, and John Devlin. Terry Tosh and Fred Wyatt handled the mound chores with Art Tinner behind the plate. Led by Coach James Gallagher, the team enjoyed a successful season.

Girls' Basketball—Sportsmanship

Until this year, the girls have had only one varsity sport in which to participate. However, this past season, basketball on a varsity level, was added to the curriculum. The seniors, who constituted the majority of the starting lineup, gained beneficial experience, combining work with pleasure. The team, coached by Mrs. Alma Blythe, and captained by Ardeth Parry included the following seniors: Carol Gillmore, Linda Nagle, Beverly von Kleeck, Susanne Heacock, Margaret Waldbuesser, and Stephanie Ott. A fitting conclusion to the season was the banquet given for the whole team at Hatboro Manor.

Swoosh! Two more points are added to Joan's high of twenty.

Ardeth Parry springs into the air to bucket another two-pointer.

Farewell

And so we have come to the end of our school days at Hatboro-Horsham H. S. As we enter into the future, into vocations and higher fields of learning, we will look back upon these days and realize how important they were. Not only have they been educational, but they have also taught us citizenship, given us a willingness to serve, and inspired us with ambition. We of the yearbook staff have tried to recapture these days which are a vital part of our lives.

During the rush to meet each deadline and produce a successful yearbook, we have gathered many words of thanks for those who have helped us. We would like to express our sincerest gratitude to Mr. Jones, Mr. Beshel, the Taylor Publishing Company, Zamsky Studios, the faculty, and our school photographers. Many thanks are extended to Mr. Donald Gallagher, our advisor, whose service and guidance have made our yearbook possible.

We, the co-editors, hope that each scanning of the " '59 Hi-Hatter" will recall many pleasant "Moments to Remember."
